Video Commercials Right Online

If you are looking for more out of your advertising dollar, then an online video ad, (VPOP)*, is a definite step forward. ¹ With just a little input from you including some basic information and up to 10 photographs, we will construct a 30 second online commercial that can be viewed from anyone's computer. We eliminate the cost of overpriced TV spots and can say with confidence that we have a much larger audience of potential customers to view your commercial than conventional TV. ² If you already have a video, we can convert it into an online ready VPOP with minimal effort. A simple process with no need for large production crews and high costs. A VPOP is an inexpensive effective way to get your story told.

*VPOP: 1. An existing 30 second video commercial converted to play in our online FLASH Player.

2. We create from scratch, a 30 second FLASH video commercial. We write the script from the information we receive from the customer and use up to 10 customer provided photographs to complete the process.
